

Sign Up for the Smartest Card
in Town!

September is Library Card Sign-up Month, and the East Baton Rouge Parish Library wants to make sure that your child has smartest card of all – a library card.

Studies show that children who are read to in the home and who use the library perform better in school and are more likely to continue to use the library as a source of lifetime learning.

“A library card has always been the most important school supply of all,” says Mary Stein, Library Assistant Director. “Kids can come to the library to get homework help and check out books, but they can also check out free music, DVDs and use the Internet to make after school life a little more fun.”

A recent study by the American Library Association also showed that families use libraries to spend time together. Forty-four percent of survey respondents report taking their children to the library for this reason.

For more information on how you can sign up for your library card, visit any location of the East Baton Rouge Parish Library.

31st Annual Author/Illustrator Program

Featuring Tedd Arnold

The East Baton Rouge Parish Library will celebrate its thirty-first annual Author/Illustrator Program at the Bluebonnet Regional Branch on Thursday, September 25, and Friday, September 26. This year's special guest is Tedd Arnold, a popular children's author and illustrator who has been delighting audiences for years with his silly tales and colorful illustrations. He has written and illustrated over three dozen books, many of them garnering national awards. His debut book, No Jumping on the Bed!, won numerous awards, including the International Reading Association/Children's Book Council Children's Choice honor for 1988. He has won the Children's Choice Award, IRA-CBC, for Green Wilma, No More Water in the Tub!, and My Working Mom. Most recently, he has won the Edgar Award for his first young adult fiction novel, Rat Life.

As a child, Arnold took art lessons and eventually received a bachelor of fine arts from the University of Florida. Following graduation he worked as a commercial artist. He specialized in textbook illustration and graphic design for advertising, but became interested in picture-book illustration thanks to the books his wife, Carol, was collecting for her kindergarten classroom. Arnold submitted samples of his work to several publishers before finally receiving his first illustration project, Helen Witty's Mrs. Witty's Monster Cookies, published in 1983. Since then, Arnold has supplied lively drawings for books by Robin Pulver, Alyssa Satin Capucilli, and Peter Glassman, among others.

After successfully illustrating books for other authors, Arnold wrote and illustrated his first book in 1987. No Jumping on the Bed was inspired by his son, Walter. From that first book, Arnold has gone on to create a variety of children's books. He draws on inspiration from his own children, old folk tales, rhymes and childhood memories among other things. On his website, Arnold encourages people to keep a journal or idea file to use for inspiration when writing. “You can't remember every idea you get or every little thing that happens, whether it's something funny or sad or scary,” says Arnold. “But if you write things down when they happen, you will always have those memories.”

The Author/Illustrator Program is supported by the East Baton Rouge Parish Library Patrons of the Public Library. The Thursday night event at 7:00 p.m. is free and open to the public. There is a modest registration fee for the Friday workshop, which is geared towards educators, librarians, writers, and those wishing to publish for a young audience.

To register and for more information, call (225) 231-3760.

We Want To Hear From You!

Does the East Baton Rouge Parish Library satisfy your needs? Does it have the books you want and the programs you're interested in? Tell us what you like and what you don't like! A public survey will be available on the Library's website throughout the month of September. The Library will take into consideration the results of the survey for future collection purchases and programming decisions. Your input matters! Visit www.ebr.lib.la.us today!

Storytime at the Library

Storytime gives children an excellent introduction to books and the library, increases their attention spans, and develops their social skills by involving them in stories, poetry, and songs. The Children's Services staff hopes Storytime will be an enjoyable experience for each child, leading to a lifelong love of books and reading.

You are always welcome to attend Storytime with your child. We offer six different Storytime formats. Since children develop at different rates, you may talk with one of our library staff members to place your child in a younger or older group. Call your local library for more information. Organized groups must reserve a date and time other than those listed below.
